School Pupil Is Victim

An 8-year-old Redwood City girl suffered a compound fracture of the left leg Monday when she was knocked down by a car just after she had stepped off a school bus a half block from her home.

The girl, Carolyn Bottaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bottaro of 1668 Union St., walked into the side of a car driven by R. H. Horwege, 43, of Buena Vista Ave., Redwood City, on Woodside Rd. at Union St., police were told.

Carolyn, a student at Notre Dame School in Belmont, stepped off the eastbound bus, police said, ran around in front of it and was knocked down by Horwege's car, which also was eastbound. The driver was not held. First treated by a Redwood City physician, Carolyn then was taken to Palo Alto Hospital.

Former Stanford Research Aide Held as Bandit

PALO ALTO—Paul R. Buttenwieser, former research associate in the Stanford University Psychology Department and one of the principals in a sensational court case over the adoption of a 3-year-old Chinese girl in 1938, was identified here as the man who allegedly took $30 in a holdup at the Cardinal Hotel here Dec. 19.

Identification of the former Stanford faculty member was made by Insp. L. S. Lawrence of the Palo Alto Police Department and M. J. Pope, hotel night clerk who was robbed.

The two confronted Buttenwieser in San Francisco, where he is being held for other robberies. Pope said Buttenwieser is the man who called him to a third floor room at 3:30 a.m., bound and gagged him at the point of a gun, and then escaped with $30 in cash and stamps.

Buttenwieser was a member of the University of Cincinnati and received his doctor of philosophy degree from Stanford in 1935.

In August, 1938, Mr. and Mrs. Buttenwieser, then living on Santa Cruz Ave. in Menlo Park, adopted Rowena Chan, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chan, San Francisco Chinese. Objections of the State Social Welfare Dept. were overruled in a much-publicized court case in Redwood City.

All museums in Rome, except that at the Vatican, have been closed indefinitely because of the war.

Building Trades Strike Threat Perils Construction Projects Here

Threat of a strike which might tie up all building activity in San Mateo County came Tuesday from the Building Material Drivers' Union of San Francisco, which represents workmen in this county.

Following prolonged negotiations which began last June, J. R. Gearhart, secretary-treasurer of the union, announced, the walkout threat today.

"Patience ceases to be a virtue" was the way he described the union's view of negotiations with the employers.

Roscoe F. Byrnes, secretary of Peninsula Association of Building Material Dealers, said that he had no comment to make at this time, but added that in his opinion, the differences would be settled without a strike.

S. F. CONDITIONS SOUGHT
Gearhart said that the union is asking the same working conditions for San Mateo County building material drivers as exist in San Francisco.

The union official said that drivers in this county are paid approximately 50 cents a day less than those in San Francisco, where they also receive a week's vacation with pay.

From sources close to the situation, it was learned that the union's demand for increased wages had been granted, but the question of vacations with pay remained as the main issue still to be settled.

A strike of the building material drivers would tie up the building industry here at a time when this district is in the midst of one of the biggest building booms in Peninsula history.

'HEDGING' CHARGED
Gearhart, in outlining reasons for the strike threat, charged that the employers "made certain promises and then tried to hedge."

Whether the strike will be called, he said, depends on what action the employers take.

That Dredge? Ah! Here's the Yarn

BURLINGAME—Ever wonder who is building that dredge alongside Bayshore Hwy. just north of the Broadway intersection? Or why?

Well, the builder is Floyd Hanchett, 1538 Burlingame Ave. The reason—to reclaim 20 acres of tideland along the Bayshore.

The project is not entirely mercenary, according to Hanchett. Nor is it exactly a hobby. It is a combination of both.

It is said that every man is born with some form of creative spirit in him. Maybe it's painting, or writing, or woodwork, or the thousands of other hobbies. And Floyd Hanchett is no different from the rest of his fellow men.

Several years ago he purchased 20 acres of tideland, lying just north and east of the Bayshore-Broadway intersection. His idea was to reclaim the land, but for what—that's his secret.

Of a creative and inventive mind, Hanchett decided to do the reclaiming work himself. First he had to have the necessary equipment—a dredge.

Why buy or hire one? Why not build one instead? This must have been the thought that ran through Hanchett's mind, because before long he was well on his way towards being a master dredge builder.

To build a dredge requires tools, but that hasn't stopped this Burlingame resident. He built himself a workshop and went ahead with the manufacturing of his own tools. In his shop, the small grey building between the highway and the dredge, he has built virtually every part of the large dredger.

One of the few things that Hanchett did not build himself is the 150-horsepower diesel motor which will operate the 80-foot long barge, which draws eight feet of water and is 28 feet wide.

When completed, which will be possibly within the next two months, the dredge will have a 96-foot boom from which a clam-shell dredge will pick up one and a half yards of San Francisco Bay mud at a scoop.

Inside, the dredge is outfitted as comfortably as Hanchett's own home. An electric refrigerator, oil burning range, hot and cold water for showers and baths and other modern comforts all go into the making of a real home out of the dredge. There is room for a crew of seven men.

Dredge building has not always been Hanchett's occupation.

He has lived on the Peninsula most of his life and up until 1929 ran the Pacific Auto Stages Inc. and the Orange Pierce Arrow stages up and down the Peninsula. In 1929 he sold out to the Pacific Greyhound Lines. Much of his early mechanical experiences were gained while operating the bus lines, as he actually helped construct some of the vehicles used by his firm.

Hanchett has not confined his activities to dredge building during the past years, however. He owns several apartment houses in San Francisco. He has two daughters, Gloria, the youngest, attends Burlingame High School, and Barbara, the elder, is a junior at the University of California.

The dredge, once it is completed, will not be Hanchett's only sea-going craft, as he owns an 81-foot yacht, the Denalix. He is a charter member of the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco, having been one of its founders, and also belongs to the Santa Catalina Yacht Club, where he and his family spend their summer vacations.

And there is the story of the "mystery dredge" which has puzzled local residents and Bayshore motorists for a couple of years.

SRA Changes Leave County in S. F. Area

Realignment of State Relief Administration areas because of the lightened case load resulting from the national defense program leaves San Mateo County under administration of the San Francisco office. Contra Costa and Alameda Counties, formerly administered under a four-county setup from San Francisco, have been transferred to a district comprising Santa Clara, San Benito and Monterey Counties, which will be administered from Oakland.

Announcement of the revised relief administration came from Acting SRA Director Ralph J. Wakefield in Sacramento, who recently revealed that administrative staffs in the various relief offices were being reduced.

Eating and drinking places in the U. S. number 305,331 and do an annual business of $3,520,985,000, according to the census.

Fourth Quota To Leave March 29th

Redwood City's fourth quota of 15 registrants will be inducted into military service for a year's duty Saturday, Mar. 29, it was announced Wednesday.

This area's selective service headquarters in the courthouse received official notice of the induction from state headquarters in Sacramento.

The order said the selectees would gather at the courthouse at 8:15 a.m. that day for transport to the San Francisco induction station by bus. Heretofore the men have gone by train.

Thirty-seven men who will fill the third draft quota from here will be inducted into service Mar. 13.

Menlo Park's fourth quota of 23 men is scheduled to leave by train Mar. 31, according to word received at the draft office there.

Burlingame and San Mateo selectees making up the fourth quota are to leave on Mar. 29.

$51,000 Suit Filed Over Traffic Fatality

J. I. Machado of San Mateo today had been named defendant in a $51,000 damage suit filed in superior court as the outcome of a traffic fatality on El Camino Real near 39th Ave., San Mateo, last Dec. 23.

The suit was filed by Norma Revelli, whose husband, William T. Revelli, 26, was fatally injured when struck by Machado's car. Mr. Revelli died Christmas day of injuries received in the accident.

Canada comprises approximately 27 per cent of the British Commonwealth.

because national defense job openings had cut considerably the state's case load.

Employers To Organize

San Mateo County employers in the building trades industry will organize themselves Monday night into an association which will have as its chief aim the keeping down of building prices.

Seth Cohn, chairman of a committee which is planning the new organization, tentatively named the Peninsula Building Trades Employers Association, today invited all interested persons to attend the "Dutch Treat" dinner which is to be held next Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo.

Those unable to attend the dinner are invited to the business session, which will follow at 7:30, Cohn said.

He explained that the purpose of the organization is to unify the building trades employers into an association dedicated to impressing the people from whom they buy labor and materials with the vital need to keep prices down.

R. C. Drill Team Loses Contest at VFW Meet

The drill team of Redwood City Post 2310, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Saturday night lost in close competition to Watsonville Post 1716, VFW Auxiliary, at the district meeting of the VFW and auxiliary in Santa Cruz, Eighth Dist. Comm. Clayton H. Heald of Redwood City presented a saber to the winning team.

Watsonville's team scored 92 1/2 points, and Redwood City made 90 3/4 points. The drill contest was a highlight of the weekend meeting.

A dance in the Veterans Building followed the contest Saturday night, and on Sunday the quarterly district meeting was held by the veterans and auxiliary units. An open meeting was held in the morning, with a business session in the afternoon, attended by about 350 district officers from posts between Monterey and San Francisco.

Department Pres. Mabel Sullivan of San Diego paid an official visit to the auxiliary posts at their afternoon meeting.

MENLO PARK NEWS

MENLO PARK—Plans are being prepared for a $125,000 theater building on Santa Cruz Ave., to be started this Spring. A new playhouse is one of Menlo Park's greatest needs.

The construction of 10 buildings in Stanford Park will start during the month and more are contemplated. That locality is experiencing a building boom. These residences will cost from $5000 to $10,000.

The stork is about to make his appearance in Menlo Park. Three precious packages are to be left among prominent families.

The local rainfall for the season is 19.05 inches, as compared with 18.56 inches at this time last year. The precipitation this season has been the greatest in 30 years.

Those taking part in the entertainment for the benefit of St. Joseph's School on Mar. 15 and 17 are rehearsing regularly. The show will have many attractions for those who attend. Dancing will follow the entertainment, and refreshments will be served.

It is rumored that some changes in personnel of the fire department will take place soon. It is said some demotions are scheduled for the first of the month.

Menlo Park Native Daughters of the Golden West will hold a card party in Central School on Thursday evening, Mar. 13.

Maj. Royal W. Park, headmaster of the Park Military Academy, located on Ringwood and Laurel Aves., was found dead in his apartment at the academy Monday forenoon. The body of Mrs. Katherine Park was found close by. She was in a semi-conscious condition but may recover. It is evident that it was a suicide pact, both agreeing to go out and over the divide together. The major had conducted the academy for the past 15 years and was successful in the enterprise. He was a graduate of West Point. Mr. and Mrs. Park were well liked in town and popular.

Stuffed Onion Recipe Is Given Here

Remember the lowly onion this time of year when fresh vegetables are few and you're trying to surprise the family with something different. Remember, too, that the onion has a place of honor in the hearts of French chefs—who are the best in the world—and this same big dry Winter onion can be made into a lordly dish when scooped out, stuffed with the right kind of pork sausage and baked.

Of course, the important thing is to get a sausage that is made of fine meat, expertly seasoned. Miller's Pork sausage meat, made by the Miller Packing Co. in Oakland, is exactly right for these stuffed onions. And one glance at the recipe will tell you how simple they are to prepare.

Screen's 'Most Talked About' Film Heroine

Never has a motion picture produced so much discussion nor its heroine been so much talked about as "Gone With the Wind," filmization of the world-famous Margaret Mitchell novel, and Vivien Leigh, who plays the fiery, impetuous and striking Scarlett O'Hara, a role which won her the coveted award of the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences. The complete, full-length version of the production opens Sunday on the Fox Sequoia screen for a limited engagement—nothing cut but the price—offering those who have not seen this famous picture the entertainment opportunity of a lifetime.

American cigarette factories make over 180 billion cigarettes annually with a valuation at the factory, including tax, of nearly $1,000,000,000. Soy Bean Now Used As Meat Substitute

To many people the Lenten season means an abrupt change in eating habits and housewives are seeking new entrees to replace meat. This year a number of meal planners will be taking advantage of "vegetarian meats" made from the soy bean to add appeal to meatless entrees and provide protein at low cost.

The versatile soy bean has now been given an important place in the food industry, agriculture, and in the development of countless plastics. Its origin is hidden in the mist of ages, but it has for centuries been one of the chief foods of the Orient, particularly of China.

In the soy bean is found a composite of vital food elements that could be obtained otherwise only by the use of milk, meat, eggs, and butter. One of the chief constituents of the soy bean is protein, vital for healthful maintenance of the body, growth for the child and repair for the adult. In addition, the soy bean provides iron, phosphorus, copper, calcium and lecithin, an important constituent of the brain and nerve tissue. From the standpoint of balanced nutrition and as a source of rarely-combined elements, soy beans are one of the most valuable foods known.

Special processing of the soy beans makes it possible for the housewife to serve foods remarkably meatlike in taste and texture yet purely vegetable. The foods retain the valuable elements so necessary for proper nourishment. They are easily prepared in many forms and offer one solution to the lenten meal planning problem.

Among the leaders in the utilization of the soy bean is the Loma Linda Food Co., Arlington, Calif., which produces vegetarian meat loaves, steaks, "burgers," sandwich spread, soy milk, and wafers in which soy flour is used. Available also are canned soy beans to which tomato and other flavorings have been added.

'Truly New' Car Is Presented Here

At the peak of its sales success with the 1941 models, Chevrolet has made a surprise move by introducing "a truly new car," according to the Davies Auto Co.

The new Chevrolet is the "Fleetline," new body model which puts before the American motoring public refreshingly original ideas in design. "Everything is new about this new Chevrolet model," A. H. Davies, the local Chevrolet executive, enthusiastically explained. "It took our breath away when we previewed it here. We are still studying the car to formulate descriptive phrases that will do it justice. In fact, the car must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated and because of that fact we are inviting everybody in this community to come and see it."

The Chevrolet man pointed out that "drawing room comfort" is the keynote of the sensational new interior design and finish. There is a new type of upholstery, new and "gleaming" interior trim, a new instrument panel, and re-designed window mouldings trimmed with chromium, among other advancements.

Original Aunt Jemima Is Due Here Today

The original Aunt Jemima is due in Redwood City Friday and Saturday, Mar. 7 and 8.

There have been many duplications of this famous mammy character on the front of box covers of pancake flour and many walking interpretations of her in the movies, on the stage and in advertising folders.

But Redwood City folks will meet the one and only original Mammy, "Aunt Jemima," herself in Territo's Market on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Ice cream and other frozen desserts annually manufactured in 2734 U. S. factories are valued at $285,806,781, according to the census.

Flour Sifting Machine Shown at Cook School

One of the high spots of the Happy Kitchen Cooking School was the "Sift-Chine" flour sifter—literally a flour sifting machine.

Instead of having to use both hands in its operation as is necessary with the old type flour sifter, you hold the "Sift-Chine" firmly in either the right or left hand and squeeze the handle. This simple operation sifts flour three times and leaves one hand free to mix or stir as desired.

In keeping with the trend of the day, the "Sift-Chine" is a colorful gadget coming in a series of pastel stripes to match the color scheme of a modern kitchen.

U. S. farmers reported the value of farm implements and machinery in the 1940 census as $3,059,266,327, compared with $3,301,654,000 in 1930.

New Recipes Given For the Housewife

Here are a few new recipes:

PINEAPPLE-RHUBARB PIE

(A Custard Pie Triumph—Easy to Make)

2 cups fresh rhubarb, diced in 1/2-inch cubes
1 cup sliced pineapple, drained and cut in thin pieces (or Tidbits)
2 eggs
1 cup California-grown beet sugar
2 1/2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Pie pastry
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine rhubarb and pineapple. Combine beaten eggs, sugar, flour, salt, and vanilla to make a smooth paste. Pour over rhubarb and pineapple and mix well. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake about 10 minutes in a hot oven (450° F.). Then bake in a slow oven (325° F.) for 30 minutes or until pie is nicely done. The egg whites make a meringue for topping. To make meringue, beat 2 egg whites until stiff, slowly beat in 4 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. A delicious pie may also be made by substituting an equal quantity of sliced strawberries for the rhubarb.

On the warm Spring days let's try a frozen dessert that has plenty of pep.

CHERRY CUSTARD

(It's Frozen)

1 cup California-grown beet sugar
1 tablespoon flour
Pinch of salt
2 cups milk
1 egg
1 cup red sour pitted cherries with juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup cream, whipped

Mix sugar, flour and salt. Add milk which has been scalded; cook in double boiler for 15 minutes. Add egg slightly beaten and cook until thickened. Cool. Add cherries which have been cut up, the cherry liquid, lemon juice, vanilla and then fold in the whipped cream. Freeze at coldest possible temperature until firm. Yield: 8 servings.

Here's a simple California pudding that grown-ups and children will like:

CALIFORNIA ORANGE PUDDING

Peel 3 large oranges and separate in sections. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup California-grown beet sugar and let stand. Make cornstarch custard as follows:

2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup California-grown beet

Far East Situation Considered at Forum

SAN CARLOS — "The Situation in the Far East and how it Concerns the United States" was the topic discussed last week at the second of a series of six open Town Forums being held by the Community Club.

The situation was defined by Fred A. Schmitz and Max L. Gelber, both of Redwood City Toastmasters Club.

Following their talks, the audience entered the discussion. William Penat, president of the Community Club, announced the next Forum had been set for Mar. 28, when Harrison W. Call, San Mateo County assemblyman, will speak.

Carpenter Kills Self As Police Seek Him

BURLINGAME — While police were seeking him to prevent his threatened suicide, Roger Mitchell, about 50, a San Mateo carpenter, shot and fatally wounded himself Sunday morning in the yard of a building firm for which he worked in Burlingame, Coroner William F. Crosby reported.

San Mateo police had been notified a short time earlier by Mrs. Mitchell that she feared her husband planned to take his life when he left their home. He had been in ill health and only recently had returned from Letterman Hospital.

When Mr. Mitchell shot himself, the report of the large-caliber gun was heard by Capt. Jack Theur of the Burlingame Police Department, who was nearby. He immediately ran to the building firm yard and aided in rushing the victim to Mills Memorial Hospital but Mr. Mitchell died a short time later. He had shot himself through the head.

His body was taken to the George W. Sneider Mortuary.

Government Cost Here Per Capita Declines

The cost of San Mateo County government for 1939-40 averaged $19.58 for each and every man, woman, and child in the county, California Taxpayers' Association stated today, making public a study of the per capita costs of county governments in California for the four years, 1936-37 to 1939-40.

The $19.58 was a decrease from the $21.47 cost for the preceding year, but it was a 15 per cent increase over the cost of the county government in 1936-37, four years before, when it averaged $16.97 per capita, the association declared.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO VOTE

City employees of Redwood City will vote next Monday on whether or not they will adopt the State Retirement Fund Plan. Balloting will be in the city clerk's office, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with all permanent city employees eligible to cast their ballot on the plan setting up a retirement system. The city employees have been studying the system for a number of weeks.

Moffett's Importance As Air Base Told

Moffett Field at Sunnyvale, closest army base to Redwood City, by the end of the current fiscal year July 1, 1941, will have 16 major air fields under its command, Maj. B. A. Palmer, public relations director for the field, told the Exchange Club Tuesday night.

At the session, F. Edmund O'Connell, former member of the club who leaves Mar. 13 for a year's service in the army, was honored and presented with a pen and pencil set on behalf of the club by J. A. Buhler, a past president.

In Major Palmer's talk, he explained that the entire western division is under command of the general headquarters at Moffett Field. By July there will be 54 regiments which will include 6000 officers, 15,000 cadets and 166,000 enlisted men in this division. It is hoped that the number will be nearly doubled eventually, he said.

At present Moffett Field itself has about 2500 officers and men, but another 800 cadets are expected shortly.

The officer reported that youths with only a high school education could now get into the air services, not as cadets but as enlisted men, and be given special training which would fit

Carol Bruce, top-ranking Broadway stage and radio star, points to the new humidity compartment, which provides ideal storage for such foods as leftovers in uncovered dishes, berries and leafy vegetables.

Opera Season Opening Only Few Days Away

SAN FRANCISCO—With the opening of the San Carlo Opera Company's season near, there is every indication, according to Tom C. Gorton, local manager, that the two-week engagement, starting Monday night, will be the biggest ever recorded here. The company, now on its 31st annual transcontinental tour, is now playing to capacity audiences in Los Angeles.

The opening night attraction is to be "Madame Butterfly," starring the internationally famous Hizi Koyke, Japanese prime donna said to be the greatest living Cho Cho San. For the first time here the performance is to be given in English. Dimitri Onofrei, distinguished tenor of the company, will be the Pinkerton.

The second night's attraction, Tuesday, will be "Carmen," starring Coe Glade, whose glamorous and dramatic handling of

U. S. Defense Effort Outlined for Club

The United States co-ordinated military and civilian defense effort was outlined to the Redwood City 20-30 Club Wednesday by Arnold North, chairman of the Redwood City Disaster Preparedness and Defense Committee.

What the nation is seeking to defend, why, and how it is to accomplish the defense, were questions posed by the speaker.

He answered them by saying that American ideals of justice, freedom and equality, embodied in America's democratic system of government, form the fundamental issues at stake; that the nation is ready to defend them because preceding generations of Americans made them possible and Americans now wish to see them preserved intact; and the defense is being set up by the government with civilian aid and co-operation.

North riddled the idea that the greatly increased powers of government in times of war or preparation for defense mean rights of the people are irretrievably lost.

"We hear that representative republicanism cannot stand up in war time. But this isn't the first time those words have been uttered . . . they were heard in the Civil War, and in the War of 1812," he declared.

"Even before our entry into the World War, under practically the same fundamental psychological situation, we heard talk like that. Many conservatives thought Wilson too liberal, thought republicanism never again could exist on this continent—but it did. . . . It is only an insidious form of propaganda to undermine your confidence in these things we have to do."

Explaining the purpose of the defense classification questionnaires which 20-30 Club members recently filled out, North said they are intended (1) to classify citizens for voluntary service according to their particular skills, and (2) to give them specialized training to enable them to fill a particular and definite role as a part of the co-ordinated defense machinery.

The defense committee is locally organized, locally adminis-

Fifth Suicide Attempt In Two Days Reported

A fifth suicide attempt in two days was reported last night to the sheriff's office when a call came from the north end of the county that a man had tried to take his own life by carbon monoxide poisoning in his car.

Deputy Sheriffs John O'Brien and Milton Minehan were sent to the scene, but on arrival were informed that the man had been taken to Junipero Serra Hospital. At the hospital, they said, the man already had been treated and dismissed, and authorities there refused to divulge his name.

Samuel J. Moncrieff, 38, a carpenter of 1003 Roosevelt Ave., Redwood City, was held to answer to superior court when he appeared for preliminary hearing last week before Judge E. I. McAuliffe. Editorial

Talk Is Cheap, But It's Getting Us Nowhere; Let's DO Something!

From row until doomsday, it appears, San Mateo County is going to have, just as regularly as the supervisors meet, a bitter squabble over the appointment of a member of the county board of health and welfare.

The supervisors are adamant in their stand not to accept County Executive Peterson's appointment to the vacated posts.

And the county executive is just as determined that they will.

If neither gives in, San Mateo County is going to witness a long series of such disgraceful episodes as those occurring at the last two meetings of the supervisors.

This one particular squabble is not of great importance in itself, despite the fact that a mountain has been made out of what should have been a molehill. But this dispute is symbolic of an intolerable situation that has existed far too long already.

There have been almost identical situations. The appointment of a director of health and welfare, for instance. The appointment of courthouse janitors. The appointment of courthouse architects.

There have been similar situations, not involving personalities. The annual disputes over the budget, for instance.

And, under the present governmental setup, we can see no hope for anything but a continuance of such rows that bring to San Mateo County free notoriety that because of its unfavorableness nullifies all the advantageous publicity that could be purchased at any price.

Surely no one will contend that this is a healthy situation.

Even the two disputants in the current controversy admit the need for change. County Manager Peterson did so when he appointed a charter study committee. The supervisors did so in submitting charter amendments at the last election, and when one of them Tuesday proposed abolition of the charter.

But no effort to date has gotten anywhere. Mr. Peterson's committee apparently gave up. The people rejected the supervisors' proposed amendments.

What then is the answer? What is there that the county can agree on?

The county's citizens can't come anywhere near agreeing on anything that the executive proposes. There are too many people who would fight any such proposal arbitrarily, regardless of its merit, just because he proposed it.

The county's citizens can't agree on anything the supervisors propose, for the same reason.

Nor is it likely that the county could agree on anything that any group designated by either would propose, for the same reason.

Therefore, it must be some other group, some new group, some group entirely free from bias or prejudice, some group having only the welfare of the county at heart, that should propose a solution to the problem.

Is this too much to hope for? Is this only a dream?

Of course, there is no such organization now in existence, but one could be created—if the county manager and the supervisors would agree on only one thing—that it should be done—and would forget their differences long enough to sit down together amiably for a half hour and plan organization of such a group.

This group could be composed of one member from each of a number of countywide organizations. But that member should not be selected by the county executive. That member should not be selected by the board of supervisors. That member should be selected by the organization itself.

That process would assure involvement of no politics—at least no politics involving either the executive or supervisors.

For instance, the Co-ordinating Council of Commuters, the Central Labor Council, the American Legion, the County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Associations, the Civic League, the Ministerial Union, the Medical Society, the Bar Association, and a dozen other non-political organizations of countywide scope and interest could each appoint one member to such a group. The board of supervisors could even be represented, and the county executive himself might even be on it, as a representative of the people not belonging to organizations.

The only things the supervisors and the manager would have to agree on would be which organizations should be included, and who would act as temporary chairman for the first meeting.

Then, to show that each is sincere in efforts to get the county out of the predicament in which it has found itself, joint signatures of the manager and the supervisors could go onto an invitation asking these organizations to appoint their representatives.

As soon as this is done, the group could meet; could elect officers, and then, as the "San Mateo County Governmental Study Committee" or whatever it chose to designate itself, could begin a study which should result in the formulation of a plan to bring peace and harmony, efficiency and economy to our county government.

This body could hold a series of hearings, either as a committee of the whole or as subcommittees. It could question the manager, the supervisors, county department heads, anyone it wanted to, anyone who wanted to be heard. The sessions could be either closed or open, as the study organization wanted.

And finally, it could bring in a recommendation that could be put to a vote of the people. Whether that recommendation would be for charter appeal, charter amendment, or preservation of the status quo, would be up to the group itself. Whatever it is, the citizens of San Mateo County surely could support it, for it would have been decided on by persons who had learned the facts, not by people who have heard this or that, who have studied only one side or the other, who might have axes to grind, favor to curry.

This, it seems to us, is the one solution to this very serious problem confronting our county. The issuance of vituperative statements by individuals and organizations, the making of unsubstantiated claims and charges privately or in public, will get us nowhere.

But the plan we have outlined will, we believe, come as near to bringing a solution to our problem as anything that can be done.

The question is now: Are our supervisors and our executive big enough to put aside their differences long enough to do this one, unselfish, non-political act FOR THE GOOD OF SAN MATEO COUNTY?

S. C. Club To Be Host

Having "volunteered" for aid in the selective service program, members of the San Carlos Athletic Club will be hosts at a "going-away" party next Tuesday night for the 37 Redwood City district men who will be inducted into the U. S. Army the following Thursday.

The program will be staged in San Carlos city hall beginning at 8 p.m., according to information given Floyd D. Granger, chairman of the local advisory board to registrants.

A committee from the athletic club, which is headed by Harold Cooper as president, is planning the program for the session.

On the committee, which will meet tonight, are Gordon Bye, E. R. Burton, Fred Hagmeyer, Walter Moltke and J. B. Kidwell. They plan to arrange an evening of entertainment, followed by the serving of refreshments for the selectees and their families, President Cooper said.

BOARD MEETING SET

Meanwhile Chairman Granger announced that the advisory board would meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Judge E. I. McAuliffe's office on the second floor of the courthouse to discuss "some of the problems that have arisen during our service on the board in assisting registrants with their questionnaires."

Granger urged all members of the board to attend to "give us the benefit of your advice and counsel in order that our board may render the maximum service to the registrants requesting our assistance and to the draft board with which we are associated."

Some members of the board are present at the city hall headquarters on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 2 to 4 p.m. During business hours, registrants may consult with Police Lieut. Stanley D. Wood at the Redwood City City Hall; Police Chief E. J. Wheeler at San Carlos, or Police Chief Fred Johnson at Belmont.

MEMBERSHIP LISTED

Members of the advisory board, who will help any registrant with his questionnaire, include Chairman Granger, Secty. Florence Donnelly and the following:

Rev. John P. Cavanaugh, H. R. Chapin, Fred Crumb, Emmett Donnelly, Rev. Charles H. Gatchell, James D. Hedge, W. W. Hilton, A. E. Lueger, Mrs. Florence Magruder, R. E. O'Connell Jr., Rev.
